During times of uncertainty, including the recent public health concerns about COVID-19 (Coronavirus), it is natural for anxieties to rise. The onslaught of news, information and misinformation can make everyone feel unsafe and unsure about how to protect themselves and their loved ones. One concern can often lead to others and can have a domino effect when not addressed.

As your EAP partner, we want to assure you that CorpCare stands ready to assist you and your employees.

1. The EAP is open and fully operational. Internally, we are already set up in multiple states with full remote, secure operations.
2. Telehealth/video EAP counseling is available. Again, much of this system was already in place but expansion of these services has also taken place in light of the recent concerns.
3. The EAP is available to assist with life's concerns both related to COVID-19 and otherwise.

As always, thank you for being a valued client. Please don't hesitate to contact either one of us with any questions or concerns.
